COUNSEL FOR PLAINTIFF STATES

GENERAL OBJECTIONS

At this juncture, the Court has allowed limited expedited discovery for purposes of the preliminary injunction hearing. Although the Federal Rules do not provide a standard for the court to use in evaluating requests for expedited discovery, district courts within the Fifth Circuit typically adopt a "good cause" standard. See, e.g., St. Louis Grp., Inc. v. Metals & Additives Corp., 275 F.R.D. 236, 240 (S.D. Tex. 2011) (citing El Pollo Loco, S.A. de C.V. v. El Pollo Loco, Inc., 344 F. Supp. 2d 986, 991 (S.D. Tex. 2004)). In a "good cause" analysis, courts examine the discovery request "on the entirety of the record to date and the reasonableness of the request in light of all the surrounding circumstances." St. Louis Grp., Inc. 275 F.R.D. at 239 (citations omitted). Moreover, the subject matter related to requests for expedited discovery should be narrowly tailored in scope. Id. Accordingly, the scope of discovery at this phase in the case is narrower than that typically provided under Rule 26.

Plaintiffs object to the extent that any of Defendant-Intervenors' requests are outside the narrow scope of expedited discovery, unduly burdensome, overly broad, or seek information that is not relevant to this phase of this case or equally accessible to Defendant-Intervenors through third-party discovery requests or other sources.

Additionally, Plaintiffs objects to each discovery request to the extent that:

(1) it seeks information that was prepared for or in anticipation of litigation, constitutes attorney work product, contains attorney-client communications, or is otherwise protected by legislative privilege, deliberative process privilege, or any other applicable privilege, protection, doctrine, or immunity; (2) it seeks information that is publicly available or otherwise equally available and/or uniquely or equally available from third parties; (3) it seeks information that does not specifically refer to the events which are the subject matter of this litigation; and (4) it seeks information not relevant to the subject matter of this litigation.

Plaintiffs object to each discovery request to the extent that it seeks information not in Plaintiffs' possession, custody, or control. Many of the requests seek information from individuals or entities who are not parties to this lawsuit and are not under the direction and control of the parties. Those requests are subject to the rules governing third-party discovery.

These responses and objections are made without waiving any further objections to, or admitting the relevancy or materiality of, any of the information requested. All answers are given without prejudice to Plaintiffs' right to introduce or object to the discovery of any documents, facts, or information discovered after the date hereof. Plaintiffs likewise do not waive the right to object, on any and all grounds, to (1) the evidentiary use of the information contained in these responses and objections; and (2) discovery requests relating to these objections and responses.

Plaintiffs will provide their responses based on terms as they are commonly understood and consistent with the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure. Plaintiffs object to and will refrain from extending or modifying any words employed in the requests to comport with expanded definitions or instructions. Plaintiffs will answer the requests to the extent required by the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure and the Local Rules of the Southern District of Texas.
